

Inflation set to moderate from Sept: Das

Reserve Bank Governor Shaktikanta Das on Friday said the central bank expects inflation to moderate from September onwards.

The RBI Governor said that while citing a fall in the prices of vegetables like tomatoes, restrictions imposed on the export of non-basmati rice and cut in the prices of domestic LPG cylinders.

Das was addressing a programme at Devi Ahilya University here.

"We expect overall inflation to start moderating from September onwards. August inflation will be again very high, but we expect from September onwards inflation to go down," he said.
